

RPM

Building Brands Across America

Construction Management: RPM's construction management equals more focus and less overhead.

Sometimes the task of managing your retail store's remodels can depress the focus on your business. RPM has developed a construction management process to ease the daily issues and monitor your construction project from start to finish, 24/7. From defining your scope of work to the last punch-list items, RPM will handle the details so you can focus on the big picture

Define Your Scope of Work

- RPM Construction Managers will work with your team from the beginning to define and finalize the scope of work.

Handling Your Bidding Process

- RPM will qualify potential bidders sending out Requests for Quotations to them.
- RPM will then review the quotations and give a set of summaries and recommendations to you.

Architectural Drawings

- RPM will work with your architects to produce, approve, and make recommendations on your drawings

Establish and Maintain Project Schedule

- RPM will help establish your construction schedule and maintain it with the help of the RPM Construction Management website

Invoice Approvals

- RPM will approve the invoices coming in from your contractors based on a schedule of values.

On-Site Management

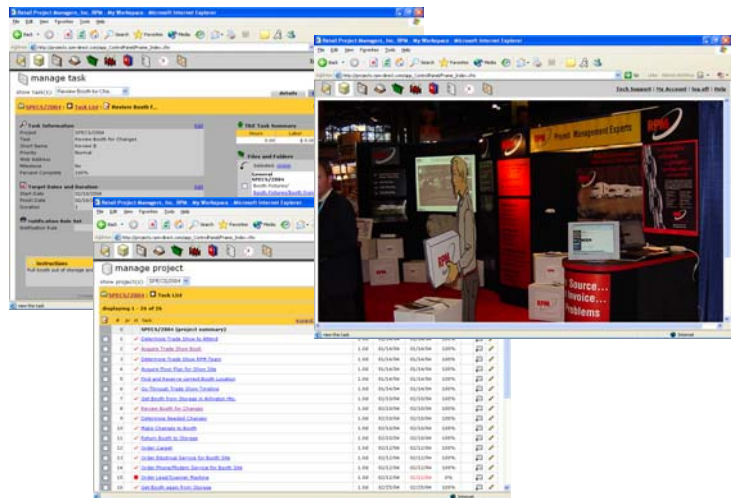

- RPM Construction Managers will make site visits to verify work is being performed to scope

Online Management

- RPM will use real time project management site to keep you informed on the project.

Punch-list Management

- RPM will create the punch-list for you and assure all items are resolved.

RPM²

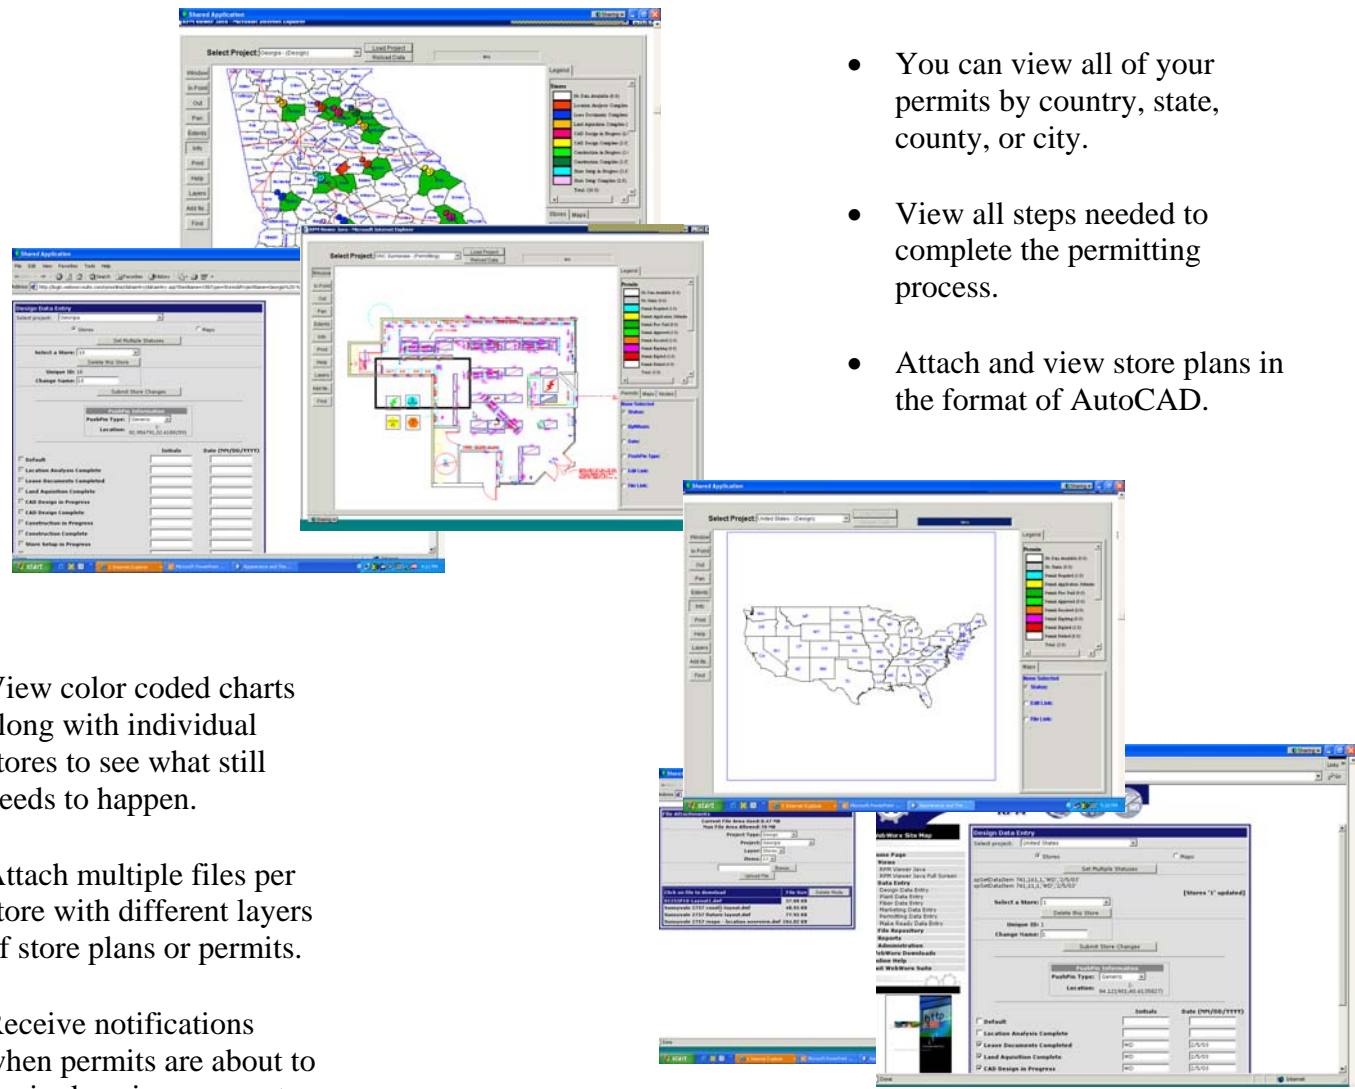

Building Brands Across America

Retail Permit Monitoring –

When the task of permit tracking gets out of hand...

Who are you going to call?

In today's retail world, the market is dominated by large and rapid growth within your company. Sometimes tracking your permits and store plans can get tricky. With the new RPM² you won't have to worry about permits expiring and not having plans available when you most need them because everyone involved will be able to collaborate including your GC, corporate staff and permit specialists.

- You can view all of your permits by country, state, county, or city.
- View all steps needed to complete the permitting process.
- Attach and view store plans in the format of AutoCAD.

- View color coded charts along with individual stores to see what still needs to happen.
- Attach multiple files per store with different layers of store plans or permits.
- Receive notifications when permits are about to expire keeping you up to code.

For more information, call 1-800-218-7552 x 203, visit www.rpm-direct.com, or email sales@rpm-direct.com